September 11, 2026

Today, we pause to remember September 11, 2001; one of the biggest tragedies to happen on American soil. After 25 years, we still need to remember the innocent lives lost, the heroes who responded, and the families and communities that were forever changed by that disastrous day.

As we mark America's 250th anniversary this year, we are reminded that our nation's strength is found in the courage, sacrifice, and unity of its people. Let us honor the memory of 9/11 by standing together, caring for one another, and remaining committed to the freedom and values that unite us as Americans.

On this solemn day, we remember, we honor, and we will never forget.

May God Bless and guide us each and every day.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Steve Slack". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name "Steve" and last name "Slack" clearly distinguishable.
